Community Outreach

Annual SMART529 When I Grow Up Essay Contest

West Virginia State Treasurer John Perdue and representatives from SMART529 gathered at Rock Branch Elementary School in Poca, West Virginia (Putnam County) to kick off the eleventh Annual SMART529 When I Grow Up student and teacher essay contest. The annual essay contest gives students around the state the chance to win up to $5,000 in higher education savings. Teachers have an opportunity to win a $2,500 cash prize. The contest generated more than 2,400 student entries from across the state and over 30 teacher entries in the teacher portion of the essay contest.

SMART529 Honor Roll

Fifty-two West Virginia investment professionals were named to the fifteenth annual SMART529 Honor Roll for encouraging families to save for higher education. West Virginia’s financial advisors play a valuable role in helping many families prepare for future costs associated with college. The SMART529 Honor Roll recognizes those who have excelled in spreading the word on the advantages of the state’s SMART529 college savings plan. Financial advisors were rated on both the number of new accounts opened and total dollars invested in the SMART529 program.

Get A Life Program

Treasurer Perdue’s Get A Life program is a hands-on financial education experience that engages middle school students with realistic family budget scenarios and helps establish strategies for living within a budget. In addition to helping build basic math skills, the students learn to understand needs versus wants. During the quarter, SMART529 was represented at twenty-six of the Get A Life programs across West Virginia.
